OF MRS. CLEVELAND'S ACTION
Gen. Bushnell Says She Refused Fornaker's
Proffered Hand and Stared Coldly at Him

Very Much Regretted by All.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 20.—In an interview this evening with a representative of the Associated Press, Gen. A. S. Bunnell, a member of Governor Foraker's staff, authorized the following statement concerning Mrs. Cleveland's reception by Governor and Mrs. Foraker at the Academy building, to-day:

"Preceded by Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania, and his staff, Governor and Mr. Foraker and our party advanced to be received. Governor Beaver and party were warmly greeted by both the President and Mrs. Cleveland, who shook hands with then shook hands with Governor Foraker, but his face was as expressive as that of a sphynx. The Governor presented Mr. Foraker and the President shook hands with her. Governor Foraker was then introduced to Mrs. Cleveland and extended his hand to her. She paid no attention to his proffered hand, but taking a hasty step backward and folding her hands, she stared straight at him without a sign of recognition. Apparently giving no heed to the direct gaze of the President, she presented Mrs. Foraker. Mrs. Cleveland still stood with folded hands declining Mrs. Foraker's extended hands and acknowledging her presence only by a freezing inclination of her head. General Axline and his wife were presented to the President and Mrs. Cleveland and both shook hands with them, and immediately afterward Mrs. Bushnell and myself were introduced and were received in the same cordial manner. The cut of Governor and Mrs. Foraker was made more dis- tinct.

have been had Mrs. Cleveland no shaken hands with the remainder of the party. It has been stated that Mrs. Cleveland was not shaking hands with any of her guests, but that is a great mistake, for she received both those who preceded and those who followed Governor and Mrs. Foraker very cordially. Regret was expressed on all sides that the incident should have occurred, for everybody felt that Mrs. Cleveland, as the first lady of the land, could not afford to snub the Chief Magistrate of the third State in the Union, to say nothing of the affront to a lady of Mrs. Foraker's rank.

An Ungrateful Wretch.
WARREN, O., Sept. 20.—August Spies is reported to have tired of Nina Van Zandt as his wife by a peculiar ceremony. No man will love a woman who makes a fool of herself even for his sake. A year or two ago Lewis Webster, the alleged murderer of old man Harrington at Ashtabula, was allowed by a foolish girl of that neighborhood to parade his sentiment for her sake.

New York, Sept. 20.—The Italian residents of this city celebrated to-day the anniversary of the entrance of Italian troops into Rome. The musical, social and military organizations, numbering 3,000, formed into four divisions about 9 o'clock, and after a short march were reviewed by Mayor Hewitt. The other officials at the City Hall. They then were wined by host to Morrisiana, where the Bustles Utilized.

New York, Sept. 20.—Meerschaut pipes, silks, velvets and other dutiable articles, were found yesterday in the bustles of female passengers on the steamer Trave, City of Chester and Rhineland. The women inspectors lately appointed are making many seizures of this kind. The bustle seems to be the favorite hiding place for goods brought over by female

An Old Case Revisited.
Fitzhugh Penny Press.
R. B. Carnahan, Esq., in looking over some of the old records in the United States District Court office came across a pair of minute books bearing date of 1865, when Mr. Carnahan was United States District Attorney and Judge McCandless was on the bench. One of the most interesting discoveries in the light of recent events was the record of a case in which Van B. Baker, recently convicted of murder in the first degree in West Virginia
